T. C. Now Owns A Bulldozer

T. C. has become the recipient of a bulldozer made available by the War Surplus Administration. This machine will be used to repair our roads, land-scape areas, build permanent pastures and do other similar jobs.

A new machine of this type costs about 12 or 13 thousand dollars, it is estimated that it will take only 2 or 3 hundred dollars to put this one in good working order.

Approximately five hundred people attended the meeting from all the districts in Georgia; Dean Carroll and Ann represented the First District. ## 3,300 Young Georgia Musicians Attend Annual Festival At T.C.

Dr. M. S. Pittman Dies Unexpectedly Of Heart Attack Last Sat. Morning

T.C. lost one of its staunchest supporters and greatest builders in the recent death of Dr. Marvin S. Pittman, president emeritus. Not only was Dr. Pittman a great local leader, but he was recognized as one of the nation's outstanding leaders in rural education.

Nancy Armstrong Named in Annual State Conference

Nancy Armstrong, a junior from Decatur, Georgia, has been elected first vice-president of the Georgia Future Teachers of America. She was elected at the annual state conference, which was held February 26 and 27, at the Atlanta Division of the University of Georgia. Nancy was a new student at T.C. this year having transferred from West Georgia College in Carrollton.

Seven Georgia Teachers College students attended the conference accompanied by two faculty members, Dr. Georgia Watson and Miss Ella Johnson. The students included: Rosemary Ammons, a senior from Brunswick; Nancy Armstrong, Frances Anthony, a senior from Buena Vista; Angene Culbreth, a junior from Edison; Shirley Hanson, a junior from Avondale Estates; Peggy Jones, a junior from the Atlanta, and a transfer from the Atlanta division this year.

Dr. Watson, who was one of the state sponsors for the Georgia F.T.A. last year, has been re-elected to that office for the coming year. Mr. Monroe is the sponsor of the Georgia Teachers College chapter of F.T.A. Rosemary Ammons was the president of the F.T.A. last year. The president for the coming year will be Louise Bransford, a student at Mercer.

The main addresses were made by John Goodlad, director of Teachers Education at Emory University and Leo Aikman, editorial staff member of the Atlanta Constitution.

New Off-Campus Program Set Up

An off-campus program in student teaching for elementary education majors will be inaugurated next quarter.

Claxton has been selected as the center for this program because all the elementary grades have qualified supervising teachers and by next September there will be a new plant for primary grades.

Spring quarter Lothair East-erling, of Glennville will work off campus in the first grade and Mrs. Mary Frances Sapp Hodges of Manassas will teach in the third grade. There will be one additional person, probably in the fourth grade.

Yesterday, today and tomorrow T.C. is host to 3,300 young Georgia musicians. They are here to compete in the annual Region Five Music Festival.

They will be competing in seven different phases of music: bands, choruses, elementary and high school, vocal solos and ensembles, instrumental solos and ensembles, folk dancing, piano and baton twirling.

The judges as announced by Rod Jonah of Glynn Academy, Brunswick, head of region five and Mr. Jack Broucek, of T.C. music faculty and festival chairmen are:

Vocal-Choruses, Mr. Orville Shetney, University of Georgia and William Deal, LaGrange High School; solos and ensembles, Haskell Boyter, Atlanta.

Elementary folk dancing, Miss Doris Schmidt, University of Florida.

Instrumental judges are: bands, Major J. B. O'Neill, Fort Pierce High School, Fort Pierce Fla.; Robert Barr, Jordan High School, Columbus; Manley Whitcomb, Florida State University; brass solos and ensembles, Harris Mitchell, University of Georgia; woodwind solos and ensembles, Léon Culpepper, Macon.

Baton twirling judge is Leon Culpepper.

Piano judges are: Miss Lucille Kimble, University of Georgia, who is judging performances and Mrs. Doris Jelks, Wesleyan Conservatory, who is judging piano sight reading.

Bands are performing in the college auditorium, high school choruses in the Lab High School auditorium, folk dancing and elementary choruses in the gymnasium, vocal solos and ensembles in room 7 of Lab High, woodwind solos and ensembles in Cone Hall lounge, brass and percussion solos and ensembles in the rehearsal hall of the music building, piano in the recital hall of the music building, and baton twirling on the front campus.

A host of music majors and other students interested in music are assisting the judges and the festival committee in running this festival. The T.C. band is sponsoring the refreshment stands and programs were prepared and are being sold by members of En Melodie, the girls' music club.

Work Underway For College Gym

The Evans Construction Co. of Warrenton has completed excavation and has begun laying foundations for the new $259,000 Teachers College gym.

The contractor has stated that he hopes the building will be in use for the majority of the 1954-55 basketball season. The building will consist of classrooms, offices for members of the physical education department and dressing rooms for students and faculty in addition to the actual gymnasium.

Tyson's Type

Have you heard anything about it? Yes, just a few comments, most want it, but one seems to care a great deal.

This is a question the editor has been asking and answering for himself all week long concerning the television set mentioned in this column last week.

There has been quite a bit of discussion on the subject with me, but outside of that, there has been no response at all.

To get a set on campus the project will have to be backed by a large number of students who think it will be worth while on campus, both from the educational and entertaining point of view.

What is needed now is a bit of action by you, the students. Let the administration know you would like to have a TV unit here. Don't just mumble to yourself it is a worthy project, let someone know what you think.

The only objection I received was too much time watching television, while it could be spent more profitably studying. Students at T.C. know what is expected of them in the classroom and TV would be a very minute factor in distracting them from their studies. Other colleges have them, some much smaller than T.C., and complaints are not heard in those colleges, why should there be any here.

It would be money well spent if one was installed here, but we have to make it obvious we want one. So express your opinion and in the process a television set might be provided.

We Appreciate Her Interest

Have you noticed the flower arrangements and the neatness of the table just outside the auditorium?

It is almost always neat.

No other person than Mrs. Henderson is responsible for this. Each day she can be observed tidying up the table, when she places a flower arrangement on it.

She does this on her own and seems to receive much satisfaction in being able to contribute to the Administration Building's appearance.

We wish to express our gratitude and appreciation to her by saying "Thanks."

$350 Worth

"Two Gentlemen from Verona" will be presented next Thursday night, here in the auditorium by the Barter Theatre.

You should be there to see this group of professional actors. Possibly, it may be your only chance to see a group of professional actors.

All of us have studied of professional actors in our literature classes but actually we never realized what they were. To us they were something put in a book just to fill space and make a good story.

Now a chance is provided for you to see a real group of actors who are professionals.

This chance is given to you by the Masquers. They are paying an extremely high price to enable us to witness this Shakespeare production. A total sum of $350 is being paid to bring the play to the T.C. stage.

Although the entrance price may be steep from the financial point of view, it certainly won't be for the value and entertainment received.

A Never Tiring Effort

Last quarter foreign language was mentioned several times in the George-Anne. One of these instances was a public opinion poll of the students on campus. In this poll the students favored the opportunity to take one or more foreign languages.

Just recently the faculty took a poll in chapel seeking preference on languages.

This shows the administration is interested in our opinions and in bettering our education.

We wish to thank them for their never tiring efforts.

Play Reviewed

"Two Gentlemen from Verona"
By William Shakespeare

The action of the play, "Two Gentlemen from Verona," is centered around the love conflicts of two gentlemen, Valentine and Proteus. Valentine is very appropriately named because he is the one who has the heart.

As the play begins Valentine is leave-taking to go to Milan but Proteus is remaining in Verona because he is in love with the fair Julia who resides there. Of course, Valentine is out for adventure in travel and thinks naught of his friend Proteus remaining behind for love's sake. However, Proteus soon learns that his father Antonio wishes for him to follow Valentine to Milan so that Proteus may also have the advantages of travel. Proteus unwillingly leaves his fair Julia.

Meanwhile in Milan Valentine has found that Proteus might not be so wrong about love. Valentine has met the fair Sylvia and finds that he too suffers from love-sickness. In this state of existence Proteus finds his friend Valentine. Proteus finds that he is soon under Silvia's spell and plans a ruse to rid Milan of Valentine to that he might court Silvia. Previous to either Valentine or Proteus there is the uninteresting Thurio who has the favor of the father in the courting of Silvia. Silvia has three suitors. Something has to happen.

And it does. Proteus lets Valentine fall into his trap. Valentine is forced to leave the court in Milan. Of course, Proteus has forgotten his first love, Julia, and now proceeds with only one rival, Thurio, to court Silvia. But Julia, with woman's intuition, follows her Proteus to Milan in a disguise. During this courtship by Proteus of Silvia, the song "Who is Silvia?" blossoms forth:

Who is Silvia? what is she?
That all our swains commend her?
Holy, fair, and wise is she;
The heaven such grace did lend her,
That she might admired be.

Is she kind as she is fair?
For beauty lives with kindness;
Love doth to her eyes repair,
To help him of his blindness;
And, being help'd, inhabits there.

Then to Silvia let us sing,
That Silvia is excelling;
She excels each mortal thing
Upon the dull earth dwelling;
To her let us garlands bring.

But even this was to no avail. Silvia decided to go find out about her beloved Valentine.

A party from the court then goes on a search which includes Thurio, the original suitor of Silvia, Proteus, and Julia disguised as a page. Silvia's father, the Duke, finds that Valentine is very manly and he, therefore, very willingly bestows his daughter upon him, and the repentant Proteus contends himself with marrying Julia. The ending—"And they lived happily ever after."

Two Gentlemen of Verona is a delightful comedy. The dialogue is witty and the plot is supported by the bantering of the two clowning servants, Speed and Launce. And there is much to be gained by being exposed to the philosophies put forth. Who can discredit the advice of Valentine concerning women:

Pittman Memorial School

The passing of Dr. Marvin S. Pittman brings many thoughts to our minds.

Probably, the thought that dwells most on our mind, is the past years. We think how tireless Dr. Pittman was in his contribution to T.C.; how unselfish he was in sacrificing himself for the sake of this institution, the enormous and numerous things he has accomplished and how he loved Collegeboro.

Many of the students now attending T.C. know very little about Dr. Pittman. In years to come he may eventually be forgotten by all except a few of the older administrators and instructors here. Although he will always be cherished by those who knew him, Dr. Pittman should live forever at T.C.

It should make every future T.C. student feel proud to know such a great man played a major role in the foundation of Georgia Teachers College.

In tribute and to express our gratitude for the outstanding work of Dr. Pittman we should create a memorial in remembrance of him. A memorial has already been constructed, why not name it for him.

This construction is none other than the Laboratory School, in which he played a most vital role.

The school has not acquired an official name and is referred to by a variety of names. It would make the student, who attends the school, prouder of their institution and would add quite a bit more prestige to it.

Why not call it Pittman Memorial School?

It Is A Start Anyway

Last Monday night at a house meeting in Sanford Hall, a plan was presented to the men that would lessen the disturbances in the dormitory at night.

The plan was presented by the Sanford Hall House Council. It followed this course; if a person is convicted before the house council for a specific offense, a demerit will be placed upon the individual. The demerit can be lifted by the person working for one hour around the dormitory. After three convictions, the offender will be sent before the Dean and it will be his problem from there on out.

Even though the men were given a chance to vote on it, and possibly the yeas will outsound the nays in the ballot box, they will not accept it on a whole.

Why more will vote for it, in the ballot box, can be understood. (This is if a majority vote for it.) Some will vote for it because they have not even given it a thought. They assume, if the house council thinks it is alright, it will be the right thing. Some will vote for it because they have friends on the council and do not want to rebel against their ideas. Others will vote according to their own convictions.

Well, it is a start anyway. Something should be done about this problem in Sanford, but this is not the way and manner it can be overcome.

The proposed plan has too many loopholes. After a decision is made about what is an offense, it will be almost impossible to gather enough evidence to convict the accused. Next the residents of the dormitory will show resentment toward the plan. Many have been heard saying "If I wanted to be under military restrictions I would have gone to a military school." And everyone knows, the individuals as a group, govern the dormitory life.

Stating again, it is a start, but the effort in this direction is useless. To solve a problem, the basic cause must be analyzed and this is being neglected.

The basic element involved is the lack of harmony and cooperation between the house director and the men. Blame is not to be placed upon either one of the two, but upon both. From the beginning a misunderstanding has taken place.

Normality can again be restored to Sanford Hall only, through this so necessary and vital harmony and cooperation.

Treat 'em As Guests

We have the largest number of visitors on campus ever this weekend.

They are high school students visiting us while attending the Music Festival.

Remember they are our guests this weekend and should be treated as such.

When all of a sudden a group this large comes to the campus at one time it will cause a huge amount of confusion. You will probably become irritated in many instances, but your real worth will show if you try to help the visitors when they need it.

Reminding you again T.C. has the reputation of being a very friendly campus, so prove it this weekend and get it established even more by lending a helping hand wherever it is needed.

World Wide Day of Prayer was observed as all classes held one minute of silent prayer this morning at eleven o'clock. This observance was sponsored locally by the Student Council. It was brought to their attention by a men's national Methodist fraternity at the University of West Virginia.

A game known as mayhem, riot, murder, otherwise baseball, will take place sometimes next week when:

The Underprivileged Idiots, captained by Chester Webb and composed of freshmen, sophomores and juniors meets The Grand and Glorious Seniors, captained by Jerry Silverman. Members: Boney Phillips, Horace Belflower, David Harris, Mike Genevrino, and Fred Pierce. Watch the bulletin board for time and place.

Did you know that the swimming pool here was built by free student labor.

The excavation was dug, embankments built, forms built, cement mixed and poured; all by volunteer student labor. If students fant anything badly enough they will have it.

There will be a movie on campus this Saturday night. Watch the bulletin board for announcements concerning the title, time and place of this movie.

Selective Service Test Deadline Is Released

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service today reminded college students that the deadline for submitting applications for the April 22 Selective Service College Qualification Test is midnight Monday, March 8, and that applications postmarked after that time cannot be considered.

Application blanks and information bulletins, with sample questions, may be obtained by students from the nearest local board. They do not have to write to their own local board to secure an application. Students are to mail their completed applications to Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey.

To be eligible to apply for the college qualification test a student must (1) intend to request deferment as a student; (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction; and (3) must not have previously taken the Selective Service Qualification Test.

The April 22, 1954 test is the last one scheduled for this school year. Students whose academic year will end in June are urged to take the April 22 test so they will have a test score in their cover sheets before the end of their academic year, at which time their boards reopen and reconsider their cases to determine whether they should be again deferred as students.

The present criteria for deferment as an undergraduate student are either a satisfactory score (70) on the Selective Service Qualification Test or specified rank in class (upper half of the males in the freshman class, upper two thirds of the males in the sophomore class, or upper three fourths of the males in the junior class).

Students accepted for admission or attending a graduate school prior to July 1, 1951, satisfy the criteria if their work continues to be satisfactory. Graduate students admitted or attending after July 1, 1951, must have been in the upper half of their classes during their senior year or make a score of 75 or better on the test. It is not mandatory for local boards to defer students who meet the criteria.

General Hershey has emphasized many times that the criteria are a flexible yard stick used to guide the local boards and that the standards may be raised any time necessary for manpower demands.

Red Cross Week

Is March 7-13

Monday five Congressmen were shot while in the House chamber of our nation's capitol. Last year tornadoes struck our own state with such force that two disaster areas were created. In both of these instances and in many many more the American Red Cross saved lives and otherwise gave aid.

March 7 through 13 is American Red Cross Week. This week of fund raising is our chance to support this worthwhile organization. Donations will be taken up in each dormitory by the House Council.

Mr. Hooley is new on the T.C. faculty this year and has charge of music courses for elementary education majors and music accomplished pianist.

Mr. Broucek is a well known figure in our music department. He already has a reputation as a fine pianist and organist.

Their program will include Bach, Beethoven and the popular Strauss.

The time is 8:15 and the admission is free.
